18 An evidentiary probation revocation hearing on supervised release violations in this case
19 was scheduled before the undersigned Magistrate Judge on October 11, 2005. The United States
20 was represented by Assistant United States Attorney Floyd Short, and the defendant by Mr.
21 Todd Maybrown. The proceedings were recorded on cassette tape.

22 The defendant had been sentenced on or about August 2, 2002, by the Honorable John 23 C. Coughenour on charges of bank fraud. The defendant was sentenced to ten days in custody
24 followed by five years of supervised release.

25 Conditions of his supervised release included the requirement that the defendant comply 26 with all local, state, and federal laws, and with the standard conditions. Other special conditions imposed were participation in a substance-abuse program, financial disclosure, search, abstaining from alcohol use, six months of home confinement, and restitution.

01 In the Petition for Warrant or Summons for Offender Under Supervision, dated 02 August 2, 2005, U.S. Probation Officer Jerrod Akins asserted the following violations of 03 defendant's conditions of supervised release:

04 (1) Failing to pay restitution for the months of May through July 2005, in violation
05 of the condition that he pay restitution in monthly installments as directed by the U.S. Probation 06 Officer.

07 (2) Failing to submit a timely, truthful, and complete monthly report for the months
08 of June 2005 and July 2005 in violation of standard condition No. 2.

09 (3) Consuming marijuana on or before July 20, 2005, in violation of standard
10 condition No. 7.

11 Defendant admitted to each violation and waived any right to an evidentiary hearing as 12 to whether they occurred.

13 I therefore recommend that the Court find the defendant violated the conditions of his 14 supervised release. A disposition hearing for the these violations is set before the Honorable 15 John C. Coughenour at 9:00 a.m. on October 21, 2005. Pending a final determination by the 16 Court, the defendant has been released.

17 DATED this 11th day of October, 2005.
